ORGANISERS

The UK Earth Observation conference 2026 is organised by:

- National Centre of Earth Observation
- Centre for Earth Observation Instrumentation
- Remote Sensing and Photogrammetry Society

OUR EVENT

We aim to create a vibrant, inclusive, and forward-looking event that champions excellence in Earth observation research, innovation, and capability across the UK.

The UK Earth Observation conference 2026 brings together researchers, industry leaders, government agencies, innovators, and students to celebrate and advance the role of Earth observation in addressing global and national challenges.

This three-day event will showcase the UK's strengths across science, technology, data, and applications, offering a unique forum for collaboration and dialogue.

We invite you to join us as a sponsor and play a key role in shaping the future of Earth observation in the UK.

WHO IS THE CONFERENCE FOR?

*EO scientists
& researchers*

Space industry organisations

Satellite data providers

*Environmental agencies &

THE PROGRAMME

We aim to strengthen cross-disciplinary and cross-sector communication, foster collaboration, and address key challenges facing the UK and the global EO community. The programme will include diverse and engaging sessions from leading national and international experts.

The three-day conference will include keynotes, exhibitions, and poster sessions, plus plenary and parallel sessions, and Q&A discussions.

The event will span the full breadth of EO from instrument and platform technology development from data analysis, calibration, validation, and knowledge extraction to policy engagement.
